Tuesday fair and warmer

HOPKINSVILLE KENTUCKY, TUESDAY, FEBRUARY 13, 1917.

VOL. 39—No. 19

EDITORIAL COMMENT.

The Second Regiment is now being mustered out at Ft. Thomas.

The Kaiser seems to have all the neutrals bluffed except one.

Ambassador Gerard and party left Berlin for Barcelona, Saturday night, going through Switzerland.

Tomorrow is the day set apart for the Legislature to meet in special session. There is no telling how long the session will last.

Yesterday was the anniversary of the birth of Abraham Lincoln, and a national holiday, but it was not observed such by the local banks.

It begins to look like the tuberculosis sanatorium authorized by a vote of the people of Christian county several years ago will not be built.

A band of 200 Villa bandits fell upon the Carranza garrison of 55 at Zman, Saturday, and the report says killed or wounded all but six.

Gen. John B. Castleman, of Louisville, and Capt. Henry L. Casey, of Danville, have tendered their services to Secretary Baker in event of war, through Senator Beckham.

A report from Copenhagen says the attempt to force Ambassador Gerard to sign a ratification of an old treaty of 1799 was due to wild rumors that reached Berlin. When these were found to be false, the matter was dropped.

Germany says: "During January we lost thirty-four airplanes. The British, French and Russians lost fifty-five airplanes in aerial engagements or by being shot down from the ground. Of these twenty-nine fell beyond our lines, and was seen plainly, and twenty-six are in our possession."

John T. E. Stites, known to his Hopkinsville friends as "Jack," who now a resident of Paducah, is a candidate for representative from McCracken county. He is a Hopkinsville boy, a brother of Capt. Henry J. Stites. It would gratify his friends here to see him realize his ambition. He deserves any honor that may be bestowed upon him.

S. Cohen, Commissioner of Agriculture, will put out a publication the 20th of February with a list of breeders of pure bred poultry in the state of Kentucky. He wants all available names and addresses and need of fowls, with the object of circulating the list in this bulletin. It is a result in the securing of some poultry orders for the state.

Sara Bernhardt and her company gave a notable performance in town Friday night. Mme. Bernhardt is a tremendously interesting actress, gifted with a personality that is a prosaic American theatre-goer has never seen. She is now more than thirty years old and minus a leg. She is now more than 70 years old and minus a leg. She is now more than 70 years old and minus a leg.

Ago Paducah tried the experiment of electing two women on school board and in a spirit of good will and half gallantry one of them was elected chairman of the board, in place of what the News-Democrat characterizes as "erowning errors" of the school, the schools were left in a condition. The superintendent and several teachers and several members of the board threw up their hands and resigned and the schools were left in a condition.

People of Dover, Tenn., will meet on a good roads bond issue Tuesday, March 1, 1917, and the Dover Boosters are under the impression that the bond issue will be made last fall to go to Dover, Tenn., and speak for the proposed issue. An election was held a year or more ago and the issue was not carried. This time there is a good prospect to carry the bond issue of $10,000, a part of which would be used to complete the road from near Fayette to Dover.

LADIES IN EVIDENCE

Mrs. Wilson and Mrs. Marshall Will Ride With Their Husbands.

HORSE-DRAWN CARRIAGE

Will Still Be Given Place of Honor In Inaugural Parade.

Washington, Feb. 12.—A touch of sentiment will enhance the imposing inaugural ceremonies, March 5, when for the first time in the history of presidential inaugurations, covering a period of 128 years, the first lady of the land as well as the consort of the Vice-President will be active participants. Mrs. Woodrow Wilson and Mrs. Thomas R. Marshall will ride with their distinguished husbands in carriages drawn by four spanking horses from the White House to the Capitol where the oath of office will be administered in the forenoon, preceding the great inaugural parade.

The participation of Mrs. Wilson and Mrs. Marshall is one of the several distinct innovations which will feature the exercises and procession. The policy of the Inaugural Chairman Robert N. Harper, approved by President Wilson, excludes certain time-worn precedents in favor of more original ideas.

The second inauguration of Woodrow Wilson will be noteworthy as he is the first Democratic President to serve two successive terms since the administrations of Andrew Jackson, from 1829 to 1837. Two distinct innovations marked the inaugural exercises of "Old Hickory." For the first time the President elect delivered his inaugural address before the people. At prior inaugurations the "acceptance speeches" had been addressed to Congress in joint session. At the conclusion of President Jackson's oration, the oath of office was administered by Chief Justice Marshall. Gen. Jackson then "retired in procession to the President's Mansion where he gathered an uproarious crowd." He was escorted to the Capitol to take the oath of office by the "Immortals of Washington," survivors of the American Revolution.

Inaugural Chairman Robert N. Harper, announces that several innovations will mark the ceremonies attending the inauguration of President Wilson on March 5. The official oath of office will be administered privately to Mr. Wilson Sunday, March 4, at the White House. He will subscribe to the ceremony oath the following day before the assembled thousands on the plaza facing the eastern portico of the Capitol.

The presidential carriage, drawn by four horses, will leave the White House for the Capitol at 11 o'clock a. m., March 5.

In the second carriage, also drawn by four horses, will be Vice-President Marshall and Mrs. Marshall accompanied by members of the Senate and House Inaugural Committees. The escorting column will be the Black Horse Troop and the cadets of the Culver, Ind., Military Institute.

LODGE TO CELEBRATE

The Seventeenth Anniversary of The Institution of Elks To-night.

The Elks will celebrate the seventeenth anniversary of the institution of Hopkinsville Lodge at the Home this evening. The lodge will hold a session as usual at which a large class of applicants will be initiated.

Later in the evening the members will repair to the dining room where a committee composed of Nick Stadelman, Sam Ficken and Glydewell Cox will serve refreshments and there will be a program of speeches.

Vigorous Protest Against the Submarine Warfare --Promises Action in Future.

TO WITHDRAW MINISTERS

Diplomatic Intercourse Will Follow if German Program is Carried Out.

Paris, Feb. 12.—China has entered a vigorous protest to Germany's submarine policy, saying:

"If, contrary to expectation, this protest be ineffective, China will be constrained, to its profound regret, to sever diplomatic relations. It is unnecessary to add that China's action is dictated by a desire for further peace and the maintenance of international law."

WILL TAKE ACTION IN FUTURE.

A communication explanatory of China's action also was handed to Dr. Paul S. Reinsch, American minister to China. It follows:

"China, like the president of the United States is reluctant to believe the German government will actually execute measures which imperil the lives and property of the citizens of neutral states and jeopardize legitimate commerce and which tend, if allowed to be enforced without opposition, to introduce new principles into international law. China being in accord with the principles set forth in your excellency's note and firmly associating itself with the United States, has taken similar action by protesting energetically to Germany against the new blockade measures. China also proposes to take such other action in the future as will be deemed necessary for maintaining the principles of international law."

ROAD MATTERS ARE DISCUSSED

At a Meeting of the H. B. M. A. Last Friday Night

The Hopkinsville Business Men's Association held a meeting Friday night and the question of road building was the principal matter under discussion. The present situation in regard to the contracts entered into by the Road Commission to expend the bond money was discussed at length. So much mileage has been attempted that the roads to be constructed will not be standard roads in width or thickness on many roads. It was the general opinion that the roads built should be shortened and made good roads as far as the money will go. The contracts do not call for completed roads, properly ditched, and a considerable amount of the funds must be used to ditch the roads, in some instances the cost being as high as $140 a mile. In some places this has to be done more than once, as property owners fill up the ditches to make driveways into their gates, instead of putting drain pipes across the entrances, as required by law. This throws the water across the ditches and much damage is thus caused. The H. B. M. A. expressed a willingness to cooperate in any way possible to aid the Commissioners in meeting these obstacles.

It also renewed the pledge to the Turney-Day-Woolworth plant on Virginia street to see that the plant had a macadamized approach from Virginia street.

SPECIAL PROGRAM.

The W. C. T. U. will meet at the Public Library tomorrow afternoon at 3 o'clock. A special program in memory of Miss Frances E. Willard, the founder of the order, has been prepared. All are invited.

DIRECTORS ELECTED

Pennyroyal Fair Stockholders Prepare For Another Big Fair.

FEW CHANGES IN BOARD

Norton Garth, B. O. McReynolds and W. M. Hancock New Directors.

The stockholders of the Pennyroyal Fair met yesterday at 1 p. m. with 406 of the 798 shares represented and elected the following Board of Directors, only one ballot being taken: S. L. Cowherd, Alex. Wallace, Jno. W. Garnett, Holland Garnett, M. C. Forbes, T. W. Blakey, Jno. H. White, J. J. Metcalfe, V. L. Gates, R. H. McGaughey, Lee Ellis, J. M. Neblett, Norton Garth, B. O. McReynolds, W. M. Hancock. The last named three are new men, the rest being re-elected.

PLANNING FOR POULTRY WORK

Agents Chapin and Slade Find Situation Very Promising.

DEMAND FOR CLUB EGGS

Not Only In Christian But From Many Other Counties.

A. S. Chapin and D. D. Slade, poultry agents from the Agricultural department, were here last week outlining the club work for this year. The Fiscal Court has authorized the retention of Mrs. Eloise Graves and the good work she did last year in standardizing White Wyandottes bearing fruit. Madison, Todd, Trigg and Caldwell counties will breed some of the same fowls this year and will rely upon the club members from Christian county to sell them White Wyandotte eggs.

Last year between 4,500 and 5,000 White Wyandotte eggs were used for hatching purposes in this county. This year, according to Messrs. Slade and Chapin, there will be at least 20,000 to 25,000 eggs used in this county alone.

Last year the Acme Mills gave away 1,000 eggs. The Planters Bank & Trust company loaned money without interest to boys and girls who were without funds to buy their initial setting of eggs. Quite a tidy sum was thus put out and up to this time only three have failed to repay the amount. This year Messrs. Chapin and Slade say they feel sure several thousand eggs will be offered for free distribution in order to help the work along in this county. Already the Fox Brothers' Company has agreed to give away 500 settings of 15 eggs each, and other concerns will doubtless help the work along in some way.

The club raisers of last year will find a ready demand for every egg they have to sell from their properly mated pens. The sale of eggs for hatching purposes by many of the 80 boys and girls in the clubs of 1916, will open the eyes of the public to the possibilities of poultry raising in the county.

Christian county bids fair to be known far and wide as the "Home of White Wyandottes."

MISSIONARY CONFERENCE.

Under the auspices of the Hopkinsville district conference of Methodists a missionary institute will be held at Princeton tomorrow and the next day. Rev. E. H. Rawlings, of Nashville, is on the program for an address.

STANLEY URGES NEW TAX LAW

In Speech Says He Called Special Session Regardless of Its Effect on Himself.

GOES TO LINCOLN MEET

Speaks In Lexington at the Dedication of a High School.

Louisville, Ky., Feb. 12.—Governor Stanley delivered an address Friday afternoon at the dedication of the new Falconer high school, near Lexington, addressed a business men's meeting that night in Lexington, and later departed, accompanied by some of the most noted educators in the state, for the Lincoln Memorial University celebration at Cumberland Gap, Tenn. The Lincoln celebration at Cumberland Gap will continue through three days and the governors and leading educators from a number of states will be present to make addresses. The New York and other eastern delegations will journey to Cumberland Gap in special trains.

In his address before the Lexington Rotary club, Governor Stanley made a staunch defense of the classification of property for levy purposes as necessary for industrial development.

"No self-seeking politician," said governor, "would have the courage to call the legislature of Kentucky into special session, and, consulting my own mind, I would not have done so; but realizing the necessity of giving the general assembly an opportunity to revise the tax laws of the state, I took it upon myself to give it that opportunity, regardless of personal or political fortunes."

DEATH AFTER LONG ILLNESS

Robert L. Moore, Reared In Christian, Died at Home In City.

Robert L. Moore died at his home, No. 1326 Beech street, at an early hour Saturday morning. He had been suffering from paralysis and other complications for some time. Mr. Moore was 62 years old and was reared near Longview, but had been residing in this city for several years. He was a member of the Christian church and a man held in the highest esteem by every one who knew him. His wife and several children survive. His funeral services were held at the residence Sunday afternoon, conducted by Rev. F. F. Walters, and the interment took place at Riverside Cemetery.

J. M. DAY DIES IN FLORIDA

Enroute to Tampa, When Taken Ill And Dies at Jacksonville.

J. M. Day, of Dawson, who, accompanied by Rufus Arnold, of Hopkinsville, left last week for Tampa, Fla., where they contemplated spending the remainder of the winter, became ill on arriving at Jacksonville and died shortly thereafter. The body was brought back to Dawson for interment. Until a few years ago he was a merchant at Dawson, being a member of the firm of Day Brothers. Besides his wife he is survived by three daughters.

Prof. L. B. Castile has closed his school in Trigg and returned to the city.

ENGLISH GAIN SOMME FRONT

Strong System of Trenches Captured--Austrians Take Italian Prisoners.

GERMAN WAR COUNCIL

To Consider the Modification Of the Submarine Policy.

The British continue their operations against the Germans with Baume their objective.

Saturday night a strong system of trenches to the north of Beaumont-Hamel, in the Ancre region, extending over a front of more than three-quarters of a mile, was captured and 215 Germans made prisoners.

South of the river near Pys, other trenches were taken and German attempts to recapture their lost positions south of Sully-Saillies were frustrated by the British guns.

Elsewhere along the line trench raids, bombardments and aerial activity have featured the fighting.

AUSTRIANS CAPTURE ITALIANS.

There has been considerable fighting in the Austro-Italian zone and in Mesopotamia between the British and Turks.

In the Gorizia sector of the former theater, the Austrians are reported to have entered Italian trenches, inflicted heavy casualties on the defenders and captured 665 men. In addition machine guns, bomb throwers and much war material were taken. Rome admits the occupation of small portions of Italian front line trenches in this region but says they are being kept under barrage fire by the Italians.

ADVANCE IN MESOPOTAMIA.

In Mesopotamia the British in their operations against the Turks have occupied a new front of more than 6,000 yards, pushing back the Turks for a depth varying from 800 to 1,000 yards.

In the eastern theater the Germans captured Russian trenches near Stanislaw, in Galicia, but later were forced to evacuate them, according to Petrograd.

WAR COUNCIL CALLED.

Unofficial advices are to the effect that Emperor William has called an important conference which will be attended by Dr. von Bethmann-Hollweg, the imperial chancellor and high army and navy officers. The possibility of modifying Germany's submarine warfare, so far as it applies to neutrals will, it is said, be discussed.

Sunday's report of Germany's underwater boat campaign, showed only one vessel, the British steamer Salaga, 3,811 tons, as having been sent to the bottom.

DATE IS CHANGED.

As a result of the protest filed by Prof. J. O. Lewis, of the Owensboro High school, against holding the Western Kentucky Oratorical contest in Paducah on March 2, the contest will be held on or near the first Friday in May, according to amendment of the constitution made last year.

Romance Leads to Altar.

A friendship formed in infancy, a courtship afterward and forty-five years' separation resulted here in the marriage of the Rev. Thomas Scott, 66 years old, a retired minister of Sanders, Carroll county, and Mrs. Mary Fothergill, 65 years old, of Lexington. Their acquaintance dates back to the Civil War when the two families were neighbors. Correspondence was started not long ago between the two, resulting in the wedding. The ceremony was said by the Rev. Cash Williams, of Cynthiana. Both have been married before.

Sailors Wanted.

Immediate enlistment of 25,000, so as to bring the navy up to proper strength, has been ordered by the Navy Department. Kentucky's quota is 500.

MUSTN'T PRIMP IN ELEVATORS

New York Stenographers Miss Mirrors
on Which They Had Been Accustomed to Rely.

No longer can a stenographer dress hurriedly at home and put the finishing touches to her costume as she goes up in the elevator before entering the office where she passes her working hours. For, alas, all four walls of the elevators in most big buildings in Brooklyn and Manhattan boroughs now present a solid front and will not reflect the image of their occupants.

"No, sir; no mirrors in our elevators," said a man who supervises a building which rises 40 stories above ground and contains 2,300 offices, according to the Brooklyn Eagle.

"Our elevators," he explained, "go six hundred feet a minute. Suppose that a woman chooses to take a last stab at a small hat with a large daggerlike hilt in a car going at such a rate of speed. What happens?
Of course the late Mayor Gaynor said that the men had no business having their heads so near the women's hatpins. But the poor things can't help it in an elevator.

"Face forward," is the command given to both operator and passengers. Suppose that during the nine o'clock rush when elevators are crowded it should occur to the woman that perhaps her collar isn't 'just so,' and she therefore raises her arms akimbo and gives it a little tweak and then turns around to get a better back view in the glass? Just think of the dig in the ribs the innocent men get while she is taking a final survey of herself."

An Explanation.

Tomdix—Because of the proverb which says "of two evils choose the

WHAT BOTHERS HER.

"But is it not embarrassing," we ask of the native daisies, "to say so many unsophisticated things? Do you not often realize immediately that you have made a terrible blunder?"
"Yes," she answers frankly. "Lots of times, after I have studied up a particularly shockingly innocent expression, I use it at entirely the wrong time."

EXTENDING TRADE OF JAPAN

Steamship Line About to Be Established Between That Country and Brazil Has Deep Purpose.

Akira Toshiro, who is, as might be supposed from his name, a Japanese, has been in Brazil for nine years studying all its industrial affairs. He is the representative of the two great transportation companies of Japan and has now left for home by way of the United States to put in operation his plan for establishing a steamship line between Japan and Brazil. The first steamer is expected to leave Japan next February, carrying 900 emigrants in addition to its freight cargo. Arrangements have been made, it is said, to send to Brazil every year 5,000 Japanese to be employed in accordance with government regulations in agricultural work. It is expected that the establishment of this line will result in the use in Brazil of large quantities of Japanese manufactures in addition to the toys and fancy articles which have heretofore been the chief articles of export to the South American country.

spoke on "The Happiest Era in Huand the leisure to enjoy life. It was the century of architecture and literature. Contrasting it with the present age, Doctor Walsh regarded the twentieth century as almost the unhappiest in human history.

wealthy coal mine magnate and destined to be turned over to the public some day. Professor Poulton of Oxford said that to leave the collec-be a national disaster and his opinion prevailed.

HAD TO WAIT FOR HIS CAR

Little Incident That Shows Rapidity of Modern Methods of Constructing Automobiles.

New stories really are coming up every day about a popular-priced automobile. A manufacturer needed a utility car around the place to do the thousand-and-one errands. His general manager went to the Detroit distributor of the popular-priced car, and asked whether he could buy one right away. The dealer said that there were so many orders ahead that it would be hard to tell when a car could be had.

The manager was a very good friend of a relative of the manufacturer of the "boats," and he went out to the factory in an endeavor to get a car right away.

"Your downtown dealer told me he did not know when I could get delivery on a car," said the applicant. "I need one at our factory right away. Can you help me out?" It was then ten o'clock in the morning. Note the time—ten o'clock in the morning.

"Sorry, old man, but we are rushed to death with orders, and I can't promise you immediate delivery. You will have to wait some time. I am afraid," said the man at the factory.

"Well, I have to have one, and maybe you can hurry it through."

"I don't see how under any circumstances we can deliver it to you before this afternoon," replied the factory man.—Indianapolis News.

HOME TOWN HELPS

WHEN LAYING OUT A CITY

Proper Planning, by Adding to Its Appearance, Bound to Bring Desirable Financial Results.

Are we laying out, for instance, a new suburb? Is it not better and more businesslike, and more likely to produce adequate financial results if we determine beforehand which of the streets are likely to become great traffic thoroughfares and to give them ample width of broad macadam or paved surface, providing only in the residential streets sufficient paved surface to allow two tradesmen's carts to pass, and laying down the remainder in trees and grass, in a way which will save the rate-payers large sums and at the same time make the street or boulevard a more desirable place in which to live?

Such instances could be multiplied a thousandfold. The results, so far of practical city planning will convince anyone that the scope, influence and finance of city planning are so much a subject for the earnest consideration of every man who is a good citizen and loves his city and his fellow citizens, that none can afford to neglect it. Nay, more than this, any city which does neglect this great subject, cannot hope to continue in these go-ahead days, to compete with other cities and towns which are wide awake to take full advantage of the opportunities for advancement and betterment which it provides.—Exchange.

COMBINING CITY AND COUNTY

By Cutting Expenses There Would Be More Money to Spend on Public Improvements.

Mayor Campbell of Houston has started a discussion of a proposal to combine city and county governments, and eliminate one set of officers. The writer advocated that several years ago, but plans to reduce the expense of government were not then as much in favor as plans to increase it.

There is no sound reason why a commissioners' court and a city commission should both be required for legislative service, nor is there any apparent need for the double service of a city and a county police force. Many other duplications could be suggested equally wasteful.

The city and county of St. Louis are under the same single system of government. So it cannot be urged that the plan will not fit a city.

The truth is that the American system seems to be based on a demand that provision shall be made for every man to hold an office who wants one. It has multiplied offices to a degree unknown in any other country, and has, as a result, driven the cost of government to a figure which exceeds that of any other country in the world. If the military branch is excluded from the comparison.—Waco (Tex.) News.

Dwindling Wool Supply.

War and embargoes are unking textile men uneasy as to the wool supply. World demand is increasing while the supply is growing less. Our own needs are twice what we raise and the chasm between domestic supply and demand is widening. Our production is less today than 25 years ago, while the population has increased 60 per cent. The difference between what we produce and what we use must be made up by imports, with the world bidding against us. The British embargo on wool shows how precarious is our position. Yet, in peace and in war, wool is an absolute necessity. Several years ago when alarm was taken at the declining beef supply many felt that the situation could not be remedied. But today cattle are increasing in the United States. More sheep and wool can be raised also if proper attention be given the industry.

Wages Go Up in Japan.

Thanks to the general business activity in consequence of the great European war the working classes in Japan are now unusually prosperous and contented, says East and West. To quote an example, hantoh coolies in Yokohama are now getting 50 yen per month, while waste paper buyers are making as much as 1.50 yen a day. Sake shops near the foreign and native lands are now busier than ever, being well patronized by the coolie and lower classes. A fact worth recording is that the latter do not now indulge in gambling on as large a scale as formerly. Salaried men alone are the victims of the steady rise in the price of daily commodities.

Cities Take Up Child Hygiene.

More than 400 American cities, each with a population of 25,000 or more, have joined the children's bureau, a branch of the department of labor, that municipal funds are being given special children's hygiene work. In more than 20 cities a special department for this work is being operated.—Providence Bulletin.

DANVILLE, PENNA.

No one but a mother knows the terrors of croup. In the hope that other mothers will find the same relief she experienced, Mrs. Benj. Shepard, 27 Spruce St., Danville, Pa., writes—

"I have used your Vick's VapoRub Salve, and would not be without it in my house. I have tried it for spasmodic croup and it acted like a charm. My little girl breathed easier in about ten minutes after I rubbed her throat and chest with VapoRub, and she went to sleep and never woke until morning. Other times I used to have to sit up all night with her, afraid to go to bed. So I will gladly recommend it to any mother for croup."

You just apply Vick's VapoRub Salve over throat and chest, covering with a warm flannel cloth. The body heat releases antiseptic vapors that are inhaled with each breath, loosening the phlegm. A real "Bodyguard in the home" against all cold troubles. Three sizes, 25c, and up. At all druggists.

MAIL IRREGULARITIES

Efforts Are Being Made To Fix Blame For Delay
In Delivery.

Irregularities complained of by Kentuckian subscribers on the rural routes out of Gracey are in the mails and not in this office. Last Thursday's Kentuckians were not sent out that day on the route south of Gracey. The papers were placed in the Hopkinsville postoffice at 6 p. m. Wednesday and should have gone out at 5:40 a. m. Thursday. Clerks in the local office say the papers were so sent. They should have reached Gracey by 6 a. m. and gone out on the rural route at 7:30 a. m. The postmaster at Gracey says they were not in the office there in time to go out. The agent of the I. C. railroad was requested to investigate and report whether the railroad mail clerk carried the mail by Gracey or not. This report has not yet been made. Subscribers are requested to report any further delays in delivery and if necessary an official investigation by the Postoffice department will be demanded.

William Halezcan, aged 70, of Union county, died of paralysis. He had been here about five years. The remains were interred in the hospital burying ground.

Two Children Burned.

Taylorsville, Ky., Feb. 12.—Two infants were burned to death when a fire, early Sunday morning destroyed the country home of Snider Chowning, near Wakefield. Chowning and his wife were at the stock barn, milking cows, when the house caught fire from a defective flue. The parents saw the flames and rushed to the house. Efforts to save the children were futile. The building was doomed when they reached it and the walls were ready to fall.

A Southern Gentleman Makes a New Friend

I was real tickled today—I made a new friend. And now you bet you, he's some tickled, too.

You see, he is a mighty good fellow—son of a big planter—has bundles of money; can buy anything he wants. And he knows all about tobacco!

He was telling around that he would give a heap for a cigarette that just hit his smoke taste. So I had them wrap me up and I went to the rich planter man.

"Sir, I am a real cigarette," I said. "I am sure you'll like me. I have good blood in my veins. I am of fine Virginia and Carolina stock and was raised in a clean, wholesome home. I am a gentleman of quality—the Quality of the South."

So the planter's son tried me and he liked me, because

You Folks of the South KNOW good blood!

You Folks of the South KNOW good tobacco!

Now my planter's son and I—we're real friends. He buys me regularly, and he tells everybody that you can't buy a better cigarette than SOVEREIGN at any price!

Why can't I be your friend, too? And, remember this—

I am guaranteed by The American Tobacco Co. —Buy me. If you don't like me return me to your dealer and get your money back. I have said it. A Southern gentleman is known the world over for keeping his word, and I have given you mine.

LIGHT GUNS ON VESSELS

Two and Three Submarines
Have Been Bagged In Day By Method.

New York, Feb. 12.—Although figures show the number of submarines destroyed by the Entente Allies and the means used in their destruction are unavailable owing to the rigid censorship on war activities, it was learned here from an authoritative source that direct gunfire from the decks of warships and auxiliary vessels has been the most effective method employed thus far.

To combat the submarine menace the British Government and her allies have adopted various plans to catch the undersea boats, although some of them have been abandoned as ineffective. A marine authority of unquestioned standing who is close to British shipping interests said to-day when asked as the effectiveness of arming ships:

"We have found that light guns discharging projectiles of four to six pounds, in the hands of trained gunners, have been by far the most effective weapon. I know personally that as many as two and three submarines have been bagged in one day in this way.

TOPEDOES EXPENSIVE.

"A submarine commander looking through a periscope has a range of vision of about three miles but he must get his target broadside on to have a reasonable chance of making a torpedo hit what is aimed for, and as torpedoes are very expensive missiles he cannot afford to take many chances of a miss.

"A periscope above the water at a distance of 200 or 300 yards makes a fair mark for a gunner working from the deck of a ship thirty or forty feet above the surface of the sea. One shot hitting the mark is all that is needed, as the submarines are of light construction, easily penetrated, and a hole anywhere in their shell spells their doom.

SELDOM FIRE AT STERN.

"It is seldom that a torpedo is fired when a threatened ship can so maneuver as to show only her stern for a mark, and in most of the cases of this nature so far reported the submarines have come to the surface and resorted to gunfire from a deck-

gun. In this kind of a tight a gun mounted on a steamship has a great advantage, for the platform offered by a submarine is an unsteady thing to fire from, and despite the smaller target offered, the gunners on ships have the better of it.

"Careful observations made during the last year of steamers mounting defense guns show that they are in a measure immune from attack—unless it is without warning, as in the case of the California. The number of U-boats that the Germans have lost have made them chary about showing themselves within range of ships on which they see guns or which they have learned are defensively armed.

"Other methods of catching submarines, such as nets, bombs and devices that are Admiralty secrets, are still being used, but the deck gun on steamers in the hands of good marksmen is leading all others in results."

FARM ANIMALS

FEEDS FOR HOG PRODUCTION

Best Information on Efficient Forage and Grain Crops Given by Experiment Station.

The best information on the feeds available in the farmers' locality can be readily and accurately given by the state experiment station. Pigs make the best use of concentrates. These can be fed in a self-feeder and can be supplemented by various slaughterhouse, bakery, or table by-products, etc. A by-product to be economical should be fairly concentrated, should be moderate in price per 100 pounds of nutrients, and should be fresh and free from taint.

During the winter, leguminous hays fed in addition to the concentrate help reduce the cost of production in the summer, pasture crops such as rape, alfalfa, bur clover, crimson clover, rye, etc., make very economical and efficient supplements for hog feeding.

In practically every farming district in the United States cheap and efficient forage and grain crops are available for hog production. These should be diligently studied by the farmer, with the aid of the state and federal forces, and used in the most profitable manner.

ATTENTION TO WORK HORSES

Animal Should Be Fed Right to Secure Greatest Amount of Labor From Them.

To secure the greatest amount of work from the horse requires that it be fed right. There is a big difference in the feeding of horses and cattle. The horse's stomach holds only a few gallons, while a cow's paunch has a capacity of over a barrel, which means that the horse must be fed more concentrated food. It also takes more energy to digest roughage than grain.

Team Disking Corn Stubble.

The morning and noon feeds should be the lightest and should consist largely of grain, the heavy feed being given in the evening. Some make a practice of giving one-quarter of the daily ration in the morning, one-quarter of it at noon, and the other half in the evening. If the horse has a grain feed followed by a big feed of hay, the grain is pushed out of the stomach before being digested.

Watering before feeding is usually the best practice. The horse will eat better, and if a large amount of water is taken after the grain has been eaten, it will push some of the grain out of the stomach before it is digested.—North Dakota Experiment Station.

FEEDING THE WORKING MARE

She Will Require More Care and Feed Than One Turned Into Pasture—Colt Must Exercise.

Where the services of the mare are required for farm work, the colt should be shut in a paddock or in a large box stall.

A Western authority on horse raising says the mare that is worked while nursing a foal will require more care in her feeding and general handling than the one that is turned out to pasture with nothing to do save raise the colt. The working mare must be furnished not only with energy sufficient for her to keep up her end of the work, but she must at the same time nourish another and growing body. The crushed oats and bran given the colt will aid greatly in keeping up his growth and development under such conditions.

As soon as he has passed his first weeks of life the colt should be given ample opportunity for exercise in a roomy lot. Where he has the run of a pasture at his mother's heels the requirement of exercise will take care of itself.

SHIPPING SWINE TO MARKET

Hog Is Not Cheap Animal and Is Well Worth Taking Care of—Crowding Is Not Profitable.

The average hog that goes to market these days returns very close to $25. It is not a cheap animal. It is worth taking care of on the way, for the dead ones don't return any "twenty-five." They are a dead loss, literally. It is the very heavy ones that are most apt to be overcome by heat, overcrowding, etc. At this time of year the farmers are getting rid largely of old brood sows, culling the breeding stock. But the money these old roughs bring is as good as any, good enough to pay for careful shipping. Crowding to economize room is not profitable when a toll of dead ones is paid. And they need lots of water in them and under them.

PERUNA in Your Home

A housewife must give the first aid in colds, coughs and other ailments. Her promptness in applying the remedy often saves a serious illness. Her experience with remedies has led her to know that PERUNA is always reliable, that she should have it on hand for the immediate treatment of coughs and colds, and that it is always to her.

Mrs. George Parker, 419 Water St., Menasha, Wis., writes: "We have used Peruna in our family for a number of years, and have found it a perfectly reliable medicine. It soon rides the system of any traces of a cold, and prevents serious consequences. I began using it for catarrh, which I suffered with a good many years. Since I have taken Peruna the dropping in my throat has discontinued, and my head and nose are not so stopped up in the morning. I am pleased with the results, and shall continue to use it until I am entirely rid of catarrh. I heartily recommend it as an honest medicine. What it does for her it is ready to do for you."

The Family Safeguard

The experience of one woman, given herewith, is typical of thousands of letters that reach the Peruna Company from grateful friends who have found their homes incomplete, and their family safety in danger without PERUNA.

Colds and Catarrh

The great weight of testimony that has accumulated in the 44 years that PERUNA has been on the market proves it, beyond question, to be the reliable family remedy, ever ready to take, preventing the serious effects of colds, coughs, grip and derangements of the digestive organs. This proof is published from time to time and many families have profited by it.

Remember you can obtain PERUNA in tablet form for your convenience. Carry it with you and be fortified against sudden attacks.

RESOLUTIONS OF RESPECT.

Be it Resolved by the Business Men's Bible Class of the First Baptist church, in meeting assembled:

First. That in the death of our brother, E. M. Flack, on Jan. 22, 1917, this class has lost one of its most devoted and faithful members. One whose knowledge of the Scriptures, whose soundness of doctrine, whose unwavering faith, were an example to all of us of the highest type of christian character, always worthy of our emulation.

Second. In the death of Bro. Flack not only has our class sustained an irreparable loss, but the church has been deprived of the wise counsel and consistent and upright leadership of one of its most faithful and useful officials and members.

Third. It is the wish of this class, with whom he was so intimately associated for so many years, that these expressions of our love and respect be spread on the class records, published in the press of the city, and a copy supplied to the bereaved family of our deceased brother.

PEMBROKE MURDERER

Seeks Liberty On Parole After 13 Years of a Life Sentence.

Ed Holland, one of the negroes convicted in 1904 of the murder of a stranger near Pembroke, advertises that he will make application for a parole. He was given a life imprisonment sentence. There were nine negroes implicated and two turned State's evidence. George Holland was hanged and six others sent to the penitentiary, where two or three of them have since died, including the ring leader, Dick Carney.

The gang were hanging around a store in Pembroke where the stranger exposed a roll of money. He was traveling alone and went into the woods nearby and was sleeping by a camp fire when the negroes crept upon him and killed him with a club and a knife and hid his body in the woods, where it was afterwards found partially devoured by hogs.

BILLIONS OF GERMS

Hopkinsville People Should Learn How to Combat Them.

You can fight off the billions of germs which you swallow.

How about the uric acid which your own system creates?

Can you conquer that too?

Yes, if your kidneys work right.

But if they don't, backache, dizziness or discolored urine.

Soon warn you of graver peril.

You must live more simply—

That's what Hopkinsville has found.

Use Doan's Kidney Pills to strengthen your kidneys.

Easy to verify local testimony.

Read this case:

J. J. Moore, stationary engineer, 612 Jessup Ave., Hopkinsville, says: "My kidneys were weak and inactive and I suffered with an ache across the small of my back. My limbs and knees ached and pained; and my system was full of uric acid. My kidneys acted irregularly, too. I read of Doan's Kidney Pills and used some. They regulated my kidneys and benefited me in every way."

Soldier is Modern Atlas.

A modern Atlas was rewarded when Second Lieutenant P. H. S. Bezuidenhout, a giant artillery officer, received the British military cross. His dugout was blown in by a shell which killed some men and wounded others. Bezuidenhout, although stunned himself, bore the whole weight of the roof on his shoulders for some time and prevented it falling on the wounded before they could be removed to safety.

Accidents will happen, but the best regulated families keep Dr. Thomas' Electric oil for such emergencies. Two sizes 25c and 50c at all stores.—Advertisement.

MAJOR SAMS DISMISSED

Lexington, Ky., Officer Gets Himself in Bad at El Paso.

Washington, Feb. 12.—President Wilson Thursday approved the verdict of a court martial at El Paso dismissing Major J. R. Sams, Second Kentucky Regiment, from the army for "conduct unbecoming an officer."

A formal statement of the court martial and its approval by the President is to be issued shortly by the War Department, it is said.

There were a number of specifications against Major Sams, to some of which the War Department will not make public reference. The count on which the verdict is based is a charge that Major Sams made a false report to a superior officer. A sealed verdict was sent from El Paso to Secretary of War Baker, who, after acting on it, sent it to the White House.

Gen. Geo. A. Morton, a U. S. army officer, is also said to be under charges preferred by two Kentucky officers for alleged insults offered their wives, while stationed in private apartments near the military camp at El Paso.

Anti-Elopement Law.

St. Louis, Mo., Feb. 19.—St. Louis social workers have prepared three measures intended to work drastic changes in marriage and divorce laws, which will be introduced in the Missouri Legislature. They would require that no divorce can be finally entered until one year after the trial and would prevent for one year the remarriage of divorced persons, including both the guilty or innocent parties.

Another bill would abolish the common law marriage and a third measure would prevent elopements, in that it would require several days notice of intention to wed before the issuance of a license.

KEEP RECORD OF "NOTICES"

Stage People Childlike in Their Liking for Expressions of Opinion That Favor Them.

A childlike belief in the efficacy of the "good notice" as a means of compelling the favor of the public is one of the distinguishing marks of the theatrical and musical professions. Many singers and players have reached a ripe age without learning that there is a vast difference between delighting the multitude and acquiring a scrap book rich in the mendacious tributes of obscure trade journals.

"Good wine needs no bush," and still less does the musician or actor whose genius has thrilled a great audience need the encomium of the printed page, for at best it is but a faint echo of the spontaneous applause that has gratified his soul and stirred him to his finest efforts. To the average actor there are but two kinds of criticism—the "knock" and the "boost." The last named benefits him but little and merely serves to feed his vanity, which is seldom in need of any nutriment. A "knock," however—even one that is malicious and undeserved—is quite apt to win for him the support of those whose wrath is aroused by the injustice of the attack.

Intelligent criticism—and there are those who boast that they never read it—can be of greater value to the actor than to any other artist, for whereas the painter can study his own work and the novelist read what he has written, the player cannot see himself act. Nevertheless, the most treasured contents of the scrap book are the "notices" that are of the least real value.

He—It's their foresight.

"Because they will naturally want to water their stock."

PURE BUSINESS.

Niece—I'm afraid he'll die first, uncle! I'm awfully unlucky!

"He announced that he would make a whirlwind campaign."
"Well, he did a great deal of blowing."

"Why, it's all right to make light of a match, isn't it?"

Worth Weight in Gold.

An inebriate, Va., Mrs. Jennie McCut, of this place, says, "I had been troubled with neuralgic complaints, for over ten years. I could not walk or stand on my feet, and had been almost confined to the house, for a long time. I began to take Cardui, the woman's tonic, and now I can walk anywhere I want to go. Cardui is worth its weight in gold." This is a high estimate on a plain, herb medicine, yet there are thousands of women who would gladly pay this price for a remedy to relieve their suffering. Cardui has helped others. Why not you? Try it. Your druggist sells it, in $1. bottles. —Advertisement.

For High Class Printing Come Here

THE KENTUCKIAN FOR 1917

The Kentuckian on Jan. 1, 1917, rounds out its 38th year. Under normal conditions the year 1916 would have been a year of unusual prosperity, but as the public is aware the exorbitant and unprecedented price charged for News Print Paper cut a deep hole in the profits of all newspapers and many unable to stand losses were put out of business. The Kentuckian enters the new year with print paper that cost $54 ton at this time last year now costing about $140 for the same amount of paper not as good. How long these conditions will continue cannot be foretold.

Many newspapers have advanced rates, but in order that the circulation may not be lessened by a higher price the Kentuckian will still be sent for $2.00 a year, the old price. It will be necessary though to adhere rigidly to the cash system, since more than $1.00 must be paid in advance for the paper upon which we print 156 papers and the cost of printing leaves but little profit out of the second dollar. We are asking our old subscribers to stand by us in this crisis by renewing promptly. Advertisers will also be asked to pay a slightly higher rate for space, which is all a newspaper has to sell outside of its subscriptions. We trust the advertising public will see the reasonableness of this step.

All papers not paid for will be Stopped. Don't Let Yours Stop.

The Price Will be the same as heretofore,

RARE FIND OF INDIAN RELICS

Discovery Recently Made in Georgia Will Undoubtedly Prove Interesting to Antiquarians.

What is said to be the most varied and remarkable collection of utensils used by the primitive Indians, together with the red man's bones, that has ever been unearthed in the vicinity of Augusta, Ga., during the present century has just been discovered by Chester E. Story, who has made a close study of ethnology and anthropology.

This find was made by Mr. Story while walking on the banks of the Savannah river. He was attracted to the scene of the discovery by what seemed to be a strange-shaped mold of clay protruding from the earth at a point where a construction gang had been making excavations for the river levee.

Using his fingers, Mr. Story unearthed a clay pipe almost intact. He dug deeper in the soft earth and soon brought forth quite a collection of bones, bric-a-brac and utensils of various sorts. In the list he had the following: Fourteen arrowheads, one spearhead, two celts (tomahawks), two pipes, pottery fragments, flakes of flint, human bones and teeth, animal bones (leg of a deer and a bear's tusk).

Beneath the pile, which was found in an area of less than five square feet, Mr. Story unearthed a bed of coals. Many of the coals had come near the surface and were mingled with the bones.

UNABLE TO SEE THE JOKE

Indiana Men Indignant at Trick Which Caused Them to Travel Far Out of Their Way.

During a recent period of rainy weather and bad roads in Brown county, some young men played a joke on many travelers on the Belmont-Bloomington pike. At a swampy place in the road the mud had become very deep, but was not impassable. The young men found a cow that had died. They cut off her head and tail and placed them in the mud hole, making it appear that the cow had mired down and died. Hundreds of travelers in all kinds of vehicles came to the mud hole and on seeing the cow's head and tail protruding from the mud, would turn around and drive back and take an old road, five miles out of the way, to get back to the main pike. After learning of the joke, several of the victims were so indignant they went to Nashville and consulted a lawyer with a view to prosecuting the jokers. They were advised to let the matter drop.—Indianapolis News.

ODD VIEWPOINT.

One woman in the audience had her own ideas about Julian Eltinge, the famous impersonator of feminine types.

"Wouldn't it be great fun to be married to a man like that?" she said to her husband.

"You mean because he is good-looking?"

"No; you are good-looking enough to suit me."

"Then what do you mean?"

"Think what a novelty it would be to be able to dress in the Paris gowns your own husband wears to work."—Youngstown Telegram.

INCONSISTENT.

"And you won't buy that antique chair I got from you ten years ago?"

"No, it would be of little use to me in its present condition."

"What do you mean? It's more antique than ever now."—Louisville Courier-Journal.

WHAT'S IN A NAME?

"Who is that studious-looking girl, the one with the high forehead and the square jaw?"

"Fifi."

HIS SNARL.

"Come on, Hiram; don't you want to see the ossified man?"

"Naw. I kin show you a whole town of 'em."

STONE WALL?

Novice—Why do they call it Wall street?

Loset—Bump up against it and you'll find out.

NOT IN HER SET.

"Is your wife going to give any parties this winter?"

"I don't know," answered Mr. Cumrox. "She never invites me."

KENTUCKY WOMEN

Who Are Now Living In Germany.

Mrs. Herbert Schlubach, who was Miss Annette Combs, daughter of Hon. and Mrs. Leslie Combs, of Lexington, is among daughters of Kentucky who now are in Germany. She is the wife of Captain Herbert Schlubach, who was a coffee importer before he was called to the colors at the outbreak of the world war.

Captain Schlubach was on the Somme battle line when last reported. Mrs. Schlubach and her three sons are at their home in Hamburg. Her parents have received two letters from her this week. Like all mail from Germany, they were slightly delayed by censorship. When written all of the family were well.

Mrs. Schlubach writes that although luxuries are scarce in Hamburg, they have suffered no hardships in the way of a shortage in life's necessities.

Other Kentucky women in Germany are Miss Helen Macfarlane, daughter of Graham Macfarlane, a retired capitalist of Louisville, and Mrs. Joseph Grabisch, who formerly was Miss Aratha Bullitt, of Louisville. A letter received from Miss Macfarlane this week stated that she was with friends in Bavaria and that she did not contemplate a change of residence soon. She has for the past eight years been making her home with friends near Munich, making an annual visit to her home in Louisville. Miss Macfarlane was in Louisville during the latter part of last year, returning to Germany just before Christmas.

Mrs. Grabisch lives in Berlin and now is a German subject by reason of her marriage four years ago. Her husband is a writer on social economy, who when last heard from had been given a furlough from the army because of heart trouble.—Leader.

Life Sentence.

Russellville, Ky., Feb. 12.—Rob Allen, charged with murder of Ben Odell, both of the Richlieu section of this county, was sentenced to life imprisonment in the penitentiary last week in the Logan Circuit Court. The shooting occurred seven months ago and Allen evaded officers by hiding in the hills. He was captured in Butler county.

FLETCHER GOES TO MEXICO

Leaves Washington for Mexican Capital—Special Train To Meet Him.

Washington, Feb. 12.—Henry P. Fletcher left here Saturday for Mexico to present his credentials as American ambassador. Accompanied by Capt. Frank R. McRoy, military attaché of the embassy, he will enter Mexico at Laredo, traveling to Queretaro, the country's new capital, over the National railway. The plan for him to go by way of Vera Cruz was abandoned because of the presence of bandits along the railway.

Ambassador Fletcher should reach Queretaro Thursday. Ramon de Negri, in charge of the Mexican embassy, notified his government tonight of the departure of the new representative, and asked that he be met at the border by a representative of the foreign office.

REVOLUTION GROWING.

Official and unofficial reports continue to indicate growth of the anti-government movement in Mexico. Although the active forces are those headed by Villa, Zapata and a few others less widely known, some officials are convinced there is a considerable support being given these by a large group of men in the United States and Europe, formerly identified with government affairs in Europe. Dr. Vasquez Gomez of Francisco Madero's cabinet and now a resident of San Antonio, Tex., is heading a new movement whose slogan is "restoration of the constitution" and whose propaganda includes the charge that the present government has admitted its illegality by the repudiation of the real constitution, that of 1857.

Information reaching the state and war departments indicates that Villa has in Chihuahua approximately 8,000 men.

Three New Camps.

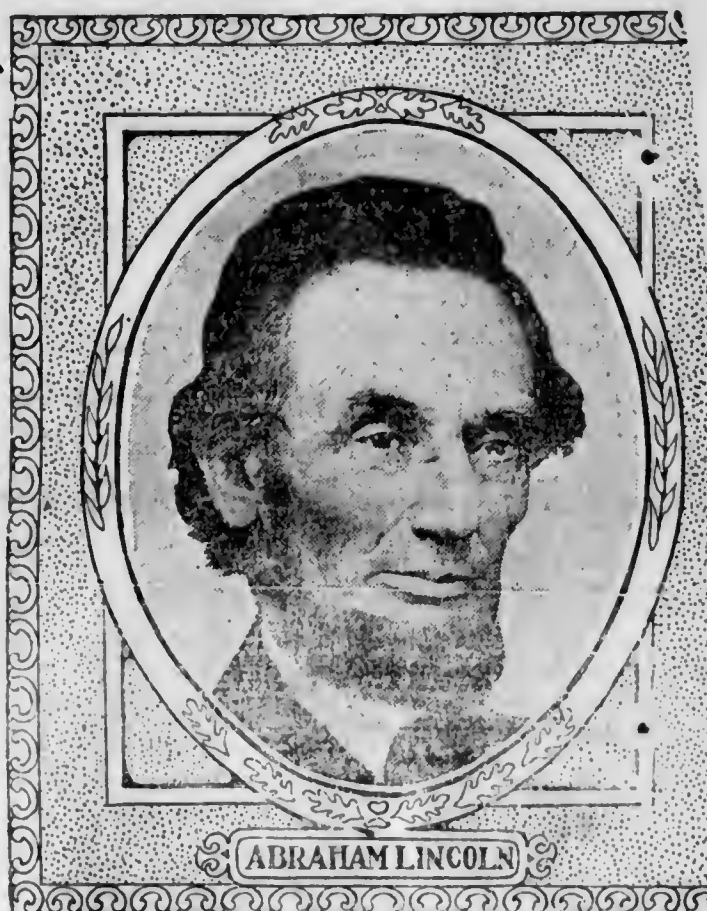

Three teams of the American Association have decided to change their training camps for this season. The Colonels hop from Columbia, Tenn., to Athens, Ga. Minneapolis, after many years, forsakes Hickman for Parsons, Kan., and the Senators will be at Daytona, Fla., instead of at Daytona Springs, Ky. The Brewers have about decided to go back to Pine Bluff, Ark., making three Hickey clubs training in Arkansas. The revised list follows:

St. Paul—Beaumont, Tex.

Republicans from all parts of Kentucky gathered in Louisville last night for the third annual Lincoln Day banquet of the Lincoln Protective Club, which was held in the auditorium of the Seelbach Hotel.

About six hundred men and women attended, the capacity of the auditorium being limited to this number. Women had been invited for the first time and a large number were present.

Speeches were made by a number of notable Kentucky Republicans. Among these were Edwin P. Morrow, of Somerset; E. T. Franks, of Owensboro; Thurman B. Dixon, of Scottsville; King Swope, of Danville; W. D. Cochran, of Maysville; Congressman J. W. Langley, of Pikeville; Judge McKenzie Moss, of Bowling Green, and Capt. Sam Brown, of Louisville.

Tangle In School Affairs Causes Resignation Of Two Teachers.

Paducah, Ky., Feb. 9.—Friction in the public school board over the recent chastisement of Mahlon Berry, son of former City Solicitor W. A. Berry, by Prof. Fred G. Stevenson, principal of the high school, resulted in the resignation of Superintendent J. H. Bentley, Prof. Stevenson and C. M. Riker, the latter a member of the school board.

Prof. Stevenson resigned because, as he stated, prompt action on charges against him had not been taken by the board.

Bentley's resignation stated he had taken the action because Dr. Delia Caldwell, a woman, and president of the board, had been antagonistic to the superintendent and because the superintendent was not invited to a secret meeting of members of the board and Prof. Stevenson, held Wednesday night at the president's home.

Superintendent Bentley, in his resignation, stated he had not been given the consideration due him by certain members of the board in affairs affecting the school and in particular mentioned the president of the board.

After investigating the charges against Prof. Stevenson the two women members voted to sustain him and the two male members voted against the resolution.

President Caldwell declined to consider the resignation at this meeting, contending it was called for another purpose.

The resignations of Prof. Stevenson and Riker are effective at once and Superintendent Bentley's by July 1.
